Dear Members & Supporters,

Manitoba Public Health has allowed First Aid Training to resume in the province, subject to restrictions on class sizes and physical distancing.

Lifesaving Society Manitoba has released guideline documents to allow Society Instructors and Trainers to teach programs under these new requirements. You will now find these documents available on the Society's website at:

COVID-19 First Aid Teaching and Decontamination Protocols

COVID-19 First Aid Training Guidelines

<https://lifesaving.mb.ca/wp-content/uploads/LSMB-COVID-19-First-Aid-Training-Guidelines.pdf>

Every candidate in a first aid course or recertification must receive a copy of the COVID-19 First Aid Training Guidelines.

You must follow the training and risk management guidelines in COVID-19 First Aid teaching and Decontamination Protocols. These guidelines may change with new directives from Manitoba Public Health. You will be notified of any changes and updates to these guidelines when we receive notification from Manitoba Public Health or Manitoba Workplace Health and Safety.

Do not hesitate to email me if you have any questions.
